THE WEATHER FORECAST.
Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday, with showers; not much change in temperature.

COMING HOME?
Back to Sedalia, the beautiful Queen City, and visit again the scenes of years gone by.
The Home Coming reunion will be held October 2, 3, 4 and 5, during the week of the Missouri state fair.

The semi-centennial of the founding of the city will be celebrated, and a grand welcome will be extended to all who gather to commemorate the event.
There are ex-Sedalians everywhere, but they will all be here again at the Home Coming.

ROOT AND NAVAL EXPANSION.

There is a wide difference of opinion between Senator Root and ex-President Roosevelt as to the military policy this country should pursue. The correspondence that passed between Mr. Root, when he was secretary of state, and the Russian foreign office on the subject of peace and armament limitation can not be reconciled with the Roosevelt theory of naval expansion, which, aside from corporation and railroad regulation, was the most conspicuous doctrine of his seven years' administration.

Mr. Root made the point to Russia that "the people of the United States dwell in comparative security, partly by reason of their isolation and partly because they have never become involved in the numerous questions to which many centuries of close neighborhood have given rise in Europe. They are, therefore, free from the apprehensions of attack which are to so great an extent the cause of great armaments."

Mr. Root's observations have a strange ring in this day of rival dreadnaughts and at the culmination of a period of the greatest naval expansion this country has ever known. Under guidance of the "big stick" we had settled down to a war preparation policy that for the navy alone today is amounting well toward the $150,000,000 mark annually, and still countless dreadnaughts to build.

We have been saturated with war rumors ever since Theodore Roosevelt went to the White House and we have had our daily lesson that might makes peace until we are steeped in the philosophy.

We had grown boastful of our international position as a world power and we took part in the Algeiras congress which settled the fate of Morocco, although it was purely a European controversy.

Senator Root adheres to an obviously different philosophy of government. His letters to Russia carry us back to the days of political as well as geographical isolation which antedates the Spanish-American war, and which have undergone radical alterations since the era of expansion set in. Mr. Root believes that the people of the United States dwell in comparative security. Practically every person in the nation at heart believes the same thing, barring the inhabitants of the Pacific coast, who appear to be hopelessly unbalanced by the yellow spectre. Mr. Root contends that we are free from the apprehensions of attack which to a large extent are the cause of great armaments. This means, if it has a practical meaning, that he is opposed to unlimited competition by the United States in the mad struggle for naval supremacy.

Mr. Roosevelt regards Root as the greatest statesman in America today. There is something Jeffersonian about this latest insight into his statesmanship which carries conviction that Theodore Roosevelt measured his man well, the big stick to the contrary notwithstanding.

TWO SCHEDULES OF INTEREST.

There are two schedules in the tariff bill which will precipitate a bitter fight when they come up in the senate and again in the house when the conference report is brought in. One of these deals with lumber and the other with sugar.

The duty on refined sugar is inexcusable. It means increased expense to every family in the United States and the sole beneficiary is the sugar trust, which controls the entire industry of refining sugar in the United States.

Great saving could be effected for the entire people by removing the differential, that provision which taxes refined sugar more than the raw product, and only the influence of the trust prevents this being done. Unfortunately, the democratic senators from Louisiana and other states that produce sugar so greatly fear the results of so doing to their home industry that they can hardly be counted on to help the progressive republicans, although as long as they maintained the present duty on raw sugar the planters of the south would not suffer in the least.

The high duty on finished lumber is also inexcusable and merely adds to the profits of the lumber trust, and yet it is doubtful if all the democrats can be induced to vote for an amendment lowering it.

The present duty was imposed at a time when it was necessary to handle finished lumber over and over, because the planing machines could smooth only one side of a stick at a time, whereas now they plane all four sides at once and tongue and groove it, too, without additional labor, so that the progressive rate does not protect labor, but only increases the profits of the manufacturer.

It is deeply to be regretted that the southern senators can not see that the only protection their industry receives comes from the duty on unmanufactured lumber, and so vote with the progressives for lower rates on the finished product.

It looks now as though the rate on rough lumber would be fixed at $1 a thousand feet, instead of $2, the Dingley rate. President Taft is anxious to have lumber admitted free of duty.

Spain has a compulsory voting law, just put into operation, the effect of which will be well worth watching. The law requires every man of legal age, with the exception of judges, notaries, priests and those more than 70 years old, to vote, unless absent or sick, and the penalties imposed for non-compliance include being arraigned for public censure, having taxes increased 2 per cent, a loss of 1 per cent in salary, if a government employee, and, in case of repetition, loss of the right to hold office. The statute implies a respect for the right and power of the suffrage that should tend to promote a sound and intelligent civic spirit.

It will astonish many people to learn that Florence Nightingale, organizer of nursing in the Crimean war, is still living and entered upon her 90th year last week. Messages from all over the world came to her quiet home in South street, Park lane, London. Until her last birthday she was comparatively active, but now is confined entirely to her room. She

SOCIETY IS A BUSINESS

MRS. J. L. D. MORRISON, ST. LOUIS, MAKES ANSWER TO MR. ILGENFRITZ.

RECALLS THE OLD DAYS IN MOUND CITY

Thinks the "Society" of Today Is Becoming More and More a Competitive Business—Mr. Ilgenfritz Called Rude.

Fortified by rows of stately ancestry on the wall above her aristocratic head, Mrs. J. L. D. Morrison, whose birth, position, skill and distinction as a hostess have made her entertainments an epoch in St. Louis society, and whose standing is so unquestionable as to make her presence something greatly to be desired at every function of moment, yesterday gave a critical analysis of modern methods of entertaining, says Sunday's St. Louis Republic.

Her remarks were provoked by a discussion of a letter written by McNair Ilgenfritz, condemning conventional society, and St. Louis society in particular, as being a bore, stale, flat and uninteresting. He intimated that a little foreign element had to be instilled in order to make it go at all, and in trying to do this he aroused the ire of his exclusive honor guests and broke up an elaborate party that he had planned last week in honor of Miss Mary Fullerton.

Mrs. Morrison laughed a low, well bred, cadenced laugh, and with a spiciness which makes it understandable how she has marshalled the society of the town for so many years, did not entirely disagree with what she termed a "very fresh young man's observations."

Society today, she thinks, is too formal, too much of a business, and not frank or genuine.

"I am afraid our society is becoming merely a competitive business, those who engage in it doing so, not from the love of hospitality and a desire to give pleasure to their guests, but to see if they can outdistance their neighbors."

"These friends, in turn, while partaking of the hospitality of their hosts, are fearful lest they can not afford to give quite as good an affair as they are enjoying. Thus, you see, the soul and spirit of entertaining is lost. The affair is formal, stiff and trying. There can be little real, genuine enjoyment under such conditions, because there is a spirit of hostile rivalry between the guests and the hosts which destroys the heart of the entertainment."

"Then there is that assumed loftiness and that purely modern product known as the 'snob,' which characterizes a great deal of modern society. It used to be that aristocrats were not all the time fearful of destroying caste by doing this or that. There is an ease and suavity and thoroughly at home air which distinguishes the persons well born, which give an assurance and which take away fear. It used to be that we were not afraid, because well bred people had certain standards of propriety to which we all adhered."

"I think it is the element of money which has been most detrimental to real society and society which the aristocrats of former days enjoyed."

"Of course, the potency of great wealth brings into prominence and into the higher stations of society people who are not properly equipped to undertake the necessary obligations of the strata in which they have been placed, suddenly and unprepared."

"It is erroneous to think that money can make a good hostess. The position requires brains of a very high order; it requires tact, diplomacy, intelligence, kindness and taste. These qualities are necessary in order to do away with all unpleasantness and disagreeableness, things which society can not tolerate."

"And yet, withal, the success or failure of an affair is dependant on many things besides the mood, the time and the cause of the entertainment. Sometimes in looking back one thinks 'how terribly stupid,' and yet infinite pains had not been spared. Then again, one remembers with pleasure the charming and sometimes almost brainy affairs."

The manipulation of guests and their arrangement so as to place no jarring personalities in restricted confinement, such as at a dinner table, is one of the accomplishments upon which Mrs. Morrison has based her reputation as a successful hostess. But if Mrs. Morrison has her opinion of society, she has her justification. It is not snobbish, she thinks, for people to exercise their prerogative in the choosing of congenial friends. She explains that snobbishness is the characteristic of one who is attempting to rise above one's really equals.

Aside from Mrs. Morrison, there are few who cared to reply to the maledictions heaped upon society by Mr. Ilgenfritz. Members of the "old families" declined to be quoted, but a list of letters found their way to the Republic office emanating from the anonymous indignation of those whose dignity would not permit of their names appearing in print or of their silence.

One who confesses that he is of the "untainted old stock," and signs himself as such, says:

"The prominence and space given to the tirade of McNair Ilgenfritz against the old families of St. Louis and society in general is indeed generous."

"His criticisms are interesting and I heartily agree with him that the leaders of society stick to the old conventions and not to the new. Heaven forbid that we should ever change to that newness which he represents. It has been far too generous as it is. A fruit may improve with age up to a certain point and then in spots become decayed. So it is with the old families. If the so-called newness, which he complains is so sadly lacking, permits of our young men leaders walking the streets with painted faces and darkened eyelashes, I say once more, heaven preserve us from that newness."

Another correspondent says that geniuses were ever revolutionary in tendencies and given to defiance of social orders. Robert Burns is cited as one of those and the writer concluded:

"Mr. Ilgenfritz is a genius. Who can deny that he is possessed of a talent most extraordinary? As a genius he is entitled to any number of idiosyncracies. A few of us who are hit realize that he is more than half right in what he says, but he seems to forget that he is attacking the very people who are in a position to favor him and his artistic career. Society has listened with pleasure to the young pianist and boomed his stock. What will be his future without society?"

HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE

DETECTIVE IS INITIATED INTO
"EGYPTIAN RITES"—OATH
BLOOD-CURDLING.

ARRESTS MADE IN A HOTEL IN ST. LOUIS

Rev. J. D. Wilson and Sire Accepted
$6 Each From "Masonic" Candidates—The Case Will Be Watched With Interest.

After the Rev. James D. Wilson, of East Roxbury, Mass., had accepted $6 each from Special Policemen Chrismer and from C. Graulich, a railroad man, for dues in the Ancient Egyptian Rite of Freemasonry, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of Sunday, he and his father, Darius Wilson, a former minister, were arrested at the Planters hotel yesterday. The police say they will apply for warrants against the two men Monday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The arrest was made after the detective and Graulich had been initiated into the order. The detective says the Rev. James D. Wilson told him that membership in the Ancient Egyptian Rite of Freemasonry would give recognition in all other Masonic orders. Mr. Wilson denies that he made any such statement.

Darius Wilson, who is 71 years old, is the founder and "grand master" of the Egyptian Rite of Freemasonry. He came to St. Louis to attend the convention of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum. The Rev. James D. Wilson, who is grand secretary of the order, came here from Chicago to meet his father. He organized the Isis lodge in Chicago.

The Wilsons are preparing to organize a lodge of Ancient Egyptian Freemasonry in St. Louis, and have engaged a hall in the Masonic building for June 1, at which time 200 applicants were to have been initiated. About forty St. Louisans were initiated at the hotel before the police arrested the grand officers of the order. The two men denounced their arrests as an outrage and stated that they would have no trouble in proving their innocence.

They rely upon a clause in the application for membership to free them from the charge made by the police. Detective Chrismer and Mr. Graulich both signed this application, which contains this statement:

"I make this application with a full knowledge that the lodge herein named or referred to is not a part nor in any way connected with and gives me no privileges in the lodges of the kind of Masonry practiced under the grand lodges of the various states and generally known as grand lodges of Free and Accepted, or Ancient Free and Accepted Masons."

"I read and fully understood all the foregoing before signing this application."

The arrest was ordered by Police Captain Young, of the Central district. Mr. Graulich received a letter from Darius Wilson a few days ago stating that he would be here during the convention of the Royal Arcanum and would do some Masonic work at the Planters hotel. Graulich showed the letter to Captain Young and was instructed to make an investigation before joining.

Graulich went to the hotel yesterday with Detective Chrismer and both made application for membership in the order. They were initiated in the hotel and as soon as the ceremonies were over the detective took the two Wilsons to the four courts.

Darius Wilson, a tall stately man, wore a silk hat and a frock coat. His son is 33 years old and is a physician as well as a minister. He says he is devoting all his attention to organizing lodges.

Chrismer and Graulich said they were required to take a blood-curdling oath that they would never reveal the secrets of the order.

The Wilsons sent word of their arrest to their friends who are attending the Arcanum and requested them to find a bondsman. They were lodged in the holdover.

HAS NO MONEY FOR "ADS"

President Hill, of the M. S. U., Says the New Law Prevents it.

Columbia, Mo., May 24.—The University of Missouri will not be able to advertise in any newspapers of the state, subscribe for a paper for the university library or encourage the Missouri Agricultural College Farmer, a student publication in the agricultural department.

The general assembly of Missouri passed an act prohibiting the university from using any part of its appropriation directly or indirectly toward the support of any newspaper receiving money for subscriptions and advertising.

President A. Ross Hill, of the university, interprets this to be wide enough to prevent buying advertising space in country dailies during the summer months, as has been the custom in the past.

"I fear the Agricultural Farmer will have to look elsewhere for support," said he. "The library will have to trust to generous friends for papers. The university will carry no advertisements as formerly if the board of curators looks at the legislative act as I do."

The act was passed to kill the University Missourian, published by the school of journalism. This paper will be run by the students and will be self sustaining.

Kansas City will get a reminder today of what the two-cent fare means, says Sunday's Kansas City Journal. This is the real opening of the summer park season and there will not be a single railroad excursion in. Until the two-cent fare excitement started it was nothing for the railroads to bring in from 5,000 to 15,000 trippers over Sunday, rates being made so low that travel was enforced.

From Garden City, 250 miles away, the trippers were carried to Kansas City and home again on the Sunday excursions for $2.50. Moberly sent thousands here, in the aggregate on a rate of $1.25, though that piece is 128 miles distant. Sedalia, 96 miles away, had a round trip rate of $1.25 allowed it for Sunday in Kansas City. For $1 the people of Nevada, 100 miles away, could come to Kansas City over the week end.

It was bad business for these and the hundreds of other towns which had the benefit of the half-cent a mile rate, but excellent for Kansas City. The trippers patronized the little stores, drug stores, cigar stands, restaurants, formed an appreciable quota in the fashionable churches, rode on the street cars and never missed the parks. The Union depot officials always reckoned from 5,000

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason—mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding:

to 10,000 trippers every Sunday during the park season.

The reason assigned by the railroads for abolishing the week-end trips is that at 2 cents they sustain such losses they cannot afford to incur the additional loss half a cent a mile imposes. The assertion that they must have made money at the low Sunday rate or they would not have made it is met by Col. E. S. Jewett, of the Missouri Pacific, with "that could not have been or they would be making the rate now. It was a speculation, a bid for popular favor. Now it is ended and the trippers, with Kansas City, lose by it. There will be no summer excursions this year to Kansas City, which means we will lose the pleasure of taking money from 100,000 to 200,000 people in the season."

SIZEMORE MADE GOOD

Pitcher From Sedalia Plays With Jefferson City Club.

Writing of the ball game played at Jefferson City Friday, when the team of that city defeated the Third Regiment club of Kansas City by a score of 10 to 0, the sporting editor of the Jefferson City Post says:

Sizemore, the new pitcher procured from Sedalia, was invincible. Twelve of the troopers took swinging exercise in an effort to connect with the variety of outshoots, drops, ins and spitfers. He stayed with them at every stage of the game, allowing men to get as far as third and then letting them expire before reaching the coveted goal.

Sizemore also distinguished himself by knocking out the first home run at Rawart park. The locals all fattened their batting averages until satisfied and then let "Cy" do the rest.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

SICK WOMEN WELL.

Centralia, Mo., May 24.—William Green, 81 years old, died at his home south of Centralia last Friday night, the result of an injury sustained some weeks ago.

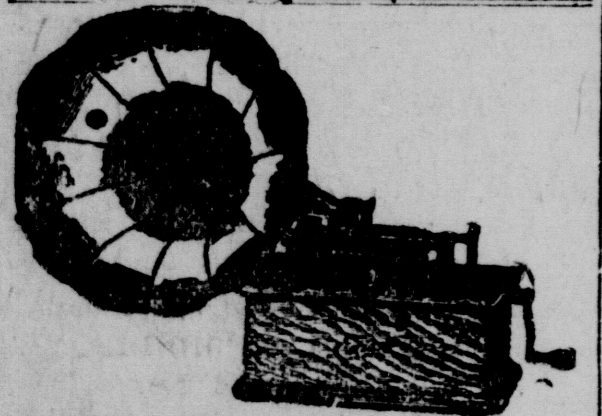

Mr. Green was one of the oldest residents, if not the oldest in Boone county. He was born near here and had never been out of the county. A. O. U. W. ORDER IN ASUIT

KANSAS STATE GRAND LODGE HAS BEEN SUED BY THE SUPREME BODY.

CASE WILL ATTRACT WIDE ATTENTION

Alleging That $172,200 Has Been Withheld, the Supreme Lodge Files an Action in Federal Court—Result of an Old Shortage.

Topeka, Kas., May 24.—Suit has been filed in the United States circuit court here by the supreme lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen against the Kansas grand lodge and its officers, for the collection of more than $172,000.

The supreme lodge charges that the grand lodge of the state has not turned over to the supreme lodge this amount of money, which was collected as a special fund.

Some years ago the A. O. U. W. found itself in financial trouble on account of its assessment rate being too low in some localities to meet the payments of beneficiary certificates due at the death of members.

At first an aid fund was ordered; then this was changed to a guaranty fund and finally it was changed to a fraternal aid fund.

A special assessment of 15 cents a month was ordered by the supreme lodge to make up this fund. The money was to be used in paying the policies held in grand lodge jurisdictions where the assessments did not reach a sufficient amount to pay the death losses.

The Kansas grand lodge of the order paid the assessments regularly for several years, but in 1908 it quit making the payments and established an emergency fund of its own and turned the money collected for the supreme lodge into this state emergency fund.

According to the charges in the suit, since January, 1908, the grand lodge has collected $163,201.95, which the supreme lodge says should have been remitted to it, as the Kansas grand lodge's assessment for the fraternal aid fund.

In addition to this amount the supreme lodge charges that the grand lodge has collected $9,122.37 in per capita taxes for the last year which has not been turned over to the supreme lodge of the order.

William M. Narvis, of Muscatine, Ia., supreme master workman, verified the petition in the suit. In addition to the Kansas grand lodge John H. Crider, of Fort Scott, grand master workman; E. M. Forde, of Emporia, grand recorder, and W. H. L. Pepperell, of Concordia, grand receiver, are named as parties to the suit.

Cannot Open the Ballot Boxes.

That the ballot boxes cannot be opened is again the decision of the supreme court in the St. Louis case of Ernest von Strade, a judge of the primary, August 4, 1908, and a writ of prohibition was maintained.

Von Strade and six others were indicted on charges of fraudulent counting. Von Strade's case was called first before Judge Allen.

Arthur N. Seger, then circuit attorney, asked that the ballot boxes be brought into court and used as evidence.

Judge Allen refused, on the ground that he had no authority to open the boxes.

Greatest Suit Bargain Carnival we have Ever Inaugurated

As announced in Sunday's papers, this greatest price cutting event started this morning, and in spite of threatening weather conditions, this has been the busiest suit selling day we have ever known.

Reason enough of course when such sensational price slashing is indulged in. This is assuredly YOUR OPPORTUNITY. Never before and never again will such great bargain prices be quoted upon strictly high-grade up-to-the-minute suits.

No use to wait longer for greater reductions, as they positively cannot be given, even if you wait until August.

Suits Worth to $20

This lot includes strictly tailored styles formerly priced to $20.00. Not a one in the lot worth less than $15; most of them $20 values. A few in the lot in short and medium coat styles that were formerly priced as high as $32.50. All one price.

Former $25 Suits $15

Or for less than the makers cost. Remember this is not an accumulation of old styles and shoddy materials, but a sale of the best garments the best makers of New York can produce. Absolutely new and correct in every particular.

Former $27.50 to $35 Suits $19.75

The height of excellence in splendid suit making—hipless models and more conservative shapes—the most desired styles of the best dressed woman in America's all new colors in light, medium or dark tones. All one price.

Former $37.50 to $50 Suits $25

25.00

Including practically every suit in the house, the "cream" of our entire stock, which is the largest and best anywhere in Interior Missouri. The greatest sacrifice sale of high grade garments you've ever known.

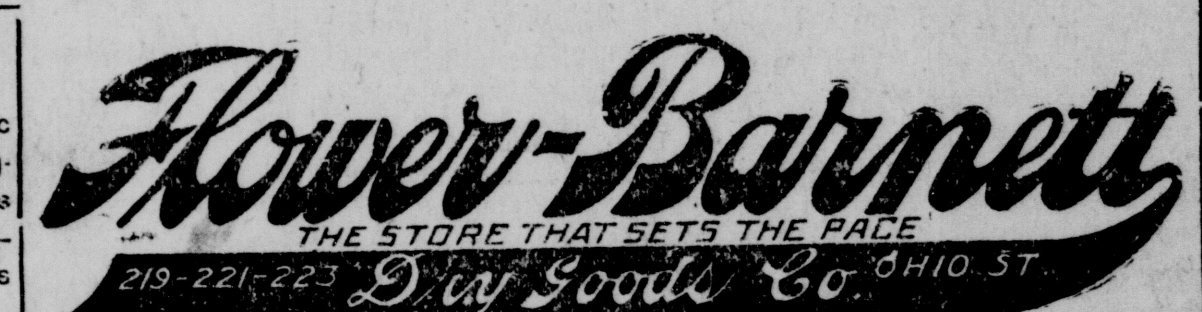

UNDERMUSLINS

In the crowds of buyers attending our recent May sale in this section and in the interior and window displays, scores of CORSET COVERS, SKIRTS, DRAWERS, CHEMISE, GOWNS, ETC., were slightly soiled and mused from handling. Our system of store keeping prevents selling these garments at regular price, although they are as perfect as ever.

RE-BURIED IN HIS OWN NAME

Mr. Riley is going to Kansas City to Investigate Death.

Evansville, Ind., May 24.—After being killed in Kansas City on the night of May 5, and the body held two weeks for identification and finally identified by J. W. Hite, of Paducah, Ky., as his son, Richard, who had been missing from home for two months, the body was brought from Kansas City and interred Thursday at McKendree, a small village thirteen miles from Paducah, Ky.

Members of the family had doubts about the body and an investigation was begun which proved on Saturday that the body was not that of Richard Hite, but was that of Higerson Riley, son of J. C. Riley, of Henderson, Ky., twelve miles south of here.

Being informed in Evansville Friday night that the body was perhaps that of his son, Mr. Riley lost no time in reaching Paducah. Upon arriving at that place Saturday afternoon he had the body exhumed and the identification was complete. The body arrived in Henderson yesterday morning and the funeral was conducted in the afternoon.

The dead man was about 22 years of age and was a telegraph operator. On April 1 he left Henderson, accepting a position with the Santa Fe Railroad Co. at Stella, Neb. In a letter to his step-mother, on May 3, he said he would leave Stella in a few days to accept another position in New Mexico.

Nothing more was heard from Riley by his family until a message was received in Henderson from the manager of the Postal Co. at Paducah, on Friday, apprising the family that young Riley was probably dead and was buried near Paducah under the name of Richard Hite.

The father of young Riley will leave Henderson for Kansas City at once to investigate the murder.

GIRL PARTS WITH BABES

GERTRUDE WOLFF BOWS TO CRUEL FATE AND STARTS FOR GERMANY.

WILL KEEP PROMISE SHE MADE FRIENDS

Her Sacrifice Their Solution of Pastor's Domestic Tangle—Don't Often Hear of Stories Like This One.

St. Louis, Mo., May 24.—Sobbing out the grief of a mother deprived of her children and cast out from all she held dear, Gertrude Wolff boarded a train bound for St. Louis at Hermann, Mo., early Saturday morning.

Behind her left all that was dear to her. She knew that in boarding the train she was taking a step that forever shut her off from the joys of tiny fingers holding tight to hers. She knew that she was renouncing the right to be called "mother" and that the little ones she brought into the world would be taught to forget her.

With bowed head and tear-dimmed eyes she bade farewell to the kindly but determined faces of the friends who had decided she must take the step.

Although reared to believe there was no sin in the acts she had committed, she realized the demands made upon her by convention must be met, and her step did not falter as she walked aboard the train and out of the lives of her children.

The girl was taken into the family of the Reverend F. G. Schenk, now pastor of a small congregation at Stolpe, Mo., but then in charge of a large church in Germany, when she was 13 years old.

Schenk, later, gave up this charge and went to Switzerland, his wife remaining in Germany and retaining the care of the girl's two children by the preacher. Gertrude went with him.

From Switzerland Schenk came to America. He did not bring the girl with him, but after he had won a foothold in the new country he sent for her. Accompanied by her two children she came.

At that time Schenk was earning a living by lecturing in German churches of St. Louis, but soon after he obtained the pastorate of the church at Stolpe. He sent for his wife, but she refused to come to him while Gertrude remained in America.

Thinking, however, that she could live near him and aid him, Mrs. Schenk sailed for this country, arriving in St. Louis three weeks ago.

Upon her arrival, St. Louis Germans learned the story and decided to take some action to clear up the domestic tangle.

The girl was brought to St. Louis and, at a conference between Dr. A. Siebert, of No. 1617 South Jefferson street, and the Rev. Louis Sudemeyer, of Hermann, it was decided she must leave America and agree never to see or hear from the Schenk family again.

Gertrude willingly signed the agreement when told it was best for her and for the minister.

But, after thinking the matter over, she concluded that too much had been asked of her, and returned to Schenk in Stolpe. Her story then became public and she was taken to the home of Mr. Sudemeyer.

The girl arrived in St. Louis at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and left at once, it is thought, for New York, where she will sail for Germany. None of her friends in the city has seen her.

terday to watch the police clap on the lid, as threatened by Mayor McClellan's recent declaration that the Sunday closing law would be enforced.

Those who expected a clash between the law and the showmen were disappointed, for no friction whatever occurred. All amusement resorts ran as usual and only six arrests were made during the day. Two of these were peddlers and two were for violation of the excise laws.

The general gaiety of the island was not disturbed, which leads to the belief that gambling and questionable places alone are to be molested.

Coney Islanders are happy and predict a passing of the much talked-of blue cloud.

MAN DIED OF HIS WOUND

John E. Spangler, Who Was Shot at Marshall Last Friday.

John E. Spangler, a former alderman, who was shot early Friday morning at Marshall, Mo., by J. W. Gofero, is dead. Gofero contends he fired while with Frances Sands, a waitress, whom he was protecting.

The woman, who rents an apartment in the Gofero home, received a written message about 1 o'clock Friday morning, stating her mother was ill. She requested Gofero to accompany her to her mother's home, she says.

Arriving there, they discovered the note was a decoy. As Miss Sands reached the door of her mother's home to return down town, she saw a man lurking in the street. Gofero went outside and ordered him away.

Upon the latter's refusal Gofero fired, he says. The bullet having passed over his head, the man advanced upon Gofero, who fired again. The man fell, shot through the right breast and the abdomen.

Gofero ordered a carriage and summoned a physician upon discovering the wounded man was Spangler. A widow, son and married daughter survive.

They are now working on a sliding scale and receive 17, 18 and 19 cents an hour. The company also reserves the right to employ union or non-union men. The local lines are operated by the Evansville and Southern Indiana Traction company.

DRY GOODS HOUSES MERGE

A Chain of Thirty Western Stores Under One New Company.

New York, May 24.—Fusion of a chain of more than thirty dry goods stores in the west into one big company is said to be the principal reason for the organization of the $51,000,000 United Dry Goods company, which was incorporated last Friday in Delaware.

Some of these stores in the west are controlled by the Associated Merchants' company, while the major interest in others is held by John Clafflin, president of the Clafflin company.

Of the $50,000 capital stock of the N. B. Clafflin company $13,000 was acquired by the Associated Merchants company at its organization in 1901. Thus the new move will mean merely closer relations of the enterprises now controlled wholly or in part by various interests connected with the

HUNTS SECOND-HAND LIONS

Has a Job Been Put Up on "Taddy" in Securing Specimens?

Boston, May 24.—Two of the largest animal dealers in Europe, Cagnart, of Naples, and Heggeman, of Berlin, are said to have been purchasing animals from the menageries and zoos of Europe for the last year and shipping them by devious routes to British East Africa.

According to Giovanni Locatelli, a trainer of animals who arrived from Naples on the Romantic, en route for Canada, aged lions, decrepit hippopotami and consumptive leopards which had been in captivity so long they would feed out of the trainer's hands and several gnu, all obtained from the animal shows of Europe in exchange for better specimens were shipped to Malta. Locatelli estimates that at least 100 large beasts have been shipped to the neighborhood of Mombasa by the two firms.

SALOONS MEET THE INCREASE

Every Chicago License Renewed Under New Ordinance.

Chicago, May 24.—Every saloon license which was in force April 20 has been renewed for the first period of 1909. The first trial balance which was struck by Ernest J. Magerstadt, city comptroller, last Saturday, shows that for the first time since the $1,000 license and the Harkin ordinance limiting the number of saloons went into effect in 1905, not a single saloon has allowed its permit to lapse.

City officials believe that in future Chicago, income from the saloons will never fall below $7,000,000 a year. Thirteen applications for licenses are still being considered in the city collector's office. The money for all of them has been paid and somebody will ultimately receive them. When they are issued Chicago will have 7,151 saloons.

The fruit over the entire Ozark region is of much better quality than last year, and prices are ranging higher.

A vast army of men women and children are at work in the berry fields, and experienced berry pickers are earning $5 to $6 a day.

SON SHOOTS DOWN FATHER

Parent Threatens to Exterminate Family and Is Killed.

Mobile, Ala., May 24.—D. E. McLaughlin shot and instantly killed his father, A. W. McLaughlin at the home of the latter, near Bucktanna, Sunday. It is said that the father, in a fit of anger, had threatened to kill his wife and other members of the family, and they sent for young McLaughlin to come and protect them, and to pacify the father, who, it is said, was under the influence of liquor.

It is stated McLaughlin, sr., became enraged at his son and advanced on him with a double barreled shotgun.

Young McLaughlin drew his pistol and shot his father through the heart. Young McLaughlin was given a hearing by a coroner's jury and was released, it being shown that he acted in self-defense.

The family is well known throughout the south.

FREE BEER WAS FAILURE

MILLIONAIRE COULDN'T LURE WITH 12 MONTHS' AMBER FLUID GRATIS.

TRIES TO SPITE DRY FACTION OF TOWN

Glasgow, Missouri, Banker Sets 'Em Up for Year, Then Abandons Orgie—Admits It Was a Huge Failure.

Glasgow, Mo., May 24.—To spite the prohibitionists who carried this county "dry," John Morrison Fuller, a millionaire bank president, opened a personal liberty hall and for twelve months served free beer to all who came, and as much of it as they desired to drink at any time except Sundays.

Each week day for the last year his place was open. No restrictions were placed upon the consumption of the beer. It was as free as the water that flows in the Missouri river past the town. The room where free beer flowed had an equipment of easy chairs and settees and the latest newspapers and magazines. Two white men and a negro in white uniforms kept the beer mugs clean and tapped a fresh keg when the one in the ice box ran dry.

In the whole year there was never a drought, never a lack of beer.

After a year of this free dispensation Mr. Morrison Fuller has closed his personal liberty hall.

"I must admit my experiment was somewhat of a failure," the millionaire banker says. "I fancied I could educate the people to a spirit of resentment against the laws that were depriving them of their liberties to eat and drink what they chose. But I found that they did not care. They are spineless slaves."

For the rent of his personal liberty hall, its furnishings, the beer and the service Mr. Morrison Fuller paid something like $7,000 in the year.

The beer alone cost him $80 a week.

DROWNED WHILE FISHING

Bite So Excited Boy He Fell Into the Water.

Centralla, Mo., May 24.—Frank Brown, a 16-year-old boy, was drowned in a pond in this city Saturday afternoon while fishing. He became excited when a fish nibbled, lost his balance and fell into the water.

J. T. Ryman, who was near, jumped into the pond and made an effort to save the youth and almost lost his own life in the attempt. A number of persons seized for the body for five hours before it was recovered. The boy was an orphan and lived with his uncle. His father lost his life by drowning ten years ago.

DEMANDS AN ACCOUNTING

Louisiana Purchase Exposition Stockholder Wants Money.

St. Louis, May 24.—In an effort to prevent the expenditure of a surplus of $250,000 for statutory and other public improvements William Freudenau, a stockholder of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company, Saturday filed suit in the circuit court for a receiver for the company and an accounting of funds.

The directors of the company had announced that the surplus would be devoted to a statue of Thomas Jefferson to cost $200,000; a new shelter house in Forest park to cost $40,000, and that the remainder would be expended for publishing the report of David R. Francis, president of the company.

Freudenau asserts in his complaint that these plans are "unlawful and that the surplus should be apportioned among the stockholders. He also asks that the court direct an accounting for all moneys spent for banquets, entertainment and travel by officers.

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 151.

"Awful Results" in Knoxville—How Eastern Tennessee City Keeps on Paving Streets and Building School Houses Without Saloon Revenue.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 10.—(Special Correspondence) —Knoxville, which was the first large city of the south to vote out its saloons, is giving additional demonstration of the prosperity that follows the prohibition policy. Last year, without a dollar of saloon revenue, the city laid five miles of street paving at a cost of $275,000. Already this spring, three miles of concrete sidewalks have been laid and the total will be brought up to sixteen miles at a cost of $50,000. The city is spending $50,000 more to widen some of the streets at certain points and is building a concrete viaduct on Asylum avenue that will cost $97,000. At the council meeting last Friday night advertisements were ordered asking for bids for the laying of nine more miles of street pavement at a cost of some $600,000. The city has purchased a lot for a new high school building at a cost of $50,000, and plans are being drawn for the building for which $100,000 will be paid. A contract has been awarded for building a primary school which will cost $10,000. The budget includes an appropriation of $5,000 for another negro school. A new fire hall costing $8,000 is being built and an addition is being built upon another at a cost of $3,000.

Knoxville is this year spending twice as much money for public improvements as has ever been spent in one preceding year; yet the tax rate without saloon revenue is five cents lower on the $100 than in 1904, with license.

We get 10 per cent of what our thirty-two "prosperity makers" collect BACK, and the millionaire brewers get the 90 per cent and we howl "PROSPERITY, PROSPERITY" —where would you be were it not for the BREWER? Yet they can spend more each year for a divorce suit than we can pay on our city debt. Just think (it's old, but yet TRUE) $200,000 in debt, and still sending our money to the brewer, on a 10 per cent commission, and still wondering with the stupidity of an idiot, why we are standing still, and paying taxes as high as the constitution will permit. Poor souls; what a consolation in the old adage, "Where there is nothing, there is nothing required."

OFFER $20,000 REWARD

FOR THE FOUR MEN WHO ROBBED A TRAIN ON THE UNION PACIFIC ROAD.

SAID THE MAIL LOOT MAY REACH $200,000

Cannot, It Is Said, Fall Below $100,000—Federal, State and Railway Dragnets Are Out In All Directions.

Omaha, Neb., May 24.—The answers of the postal officials to the query as to how much money was obtained by the bandits who held up and robbed the Overland Limited train on the Union Pacific at this place Saturday night give the impression that the amount obtained by the four masked men is between $100,000 and $200,000 and that it will be close to the latter figure.

Several pouches of mail were taken from the mail car and the value of the contents of these pouches varies. The reticence of the postal officials and the quick action of the railroad company in offering a reward of $5,000 each for the capture of the robbers, dead or alive, has created the impression in police circles here that the amount stolen is very large.

The officials say the pouches must have contained a large sum of currency, being shipped east. This belief is strengthened by the demand of one of the robbers that he be shown the "bank mail" when two of them entered the mail car and thrust revolvers at the clerks.

Two of the pouches were destined for New York, two for the Chicago terminals, two for Washington and one for Chicago. Three of the pouches were made up east of Cheyenne, Wyo., while four had come from the coast and presumably contained currency, much of it coming from the Orient.

Sunday one of the stolen pouches was found in the vicinity of Forty-third street and the Union Pacific tracks, but half a dozen blocks from the aristocratic residence district, near Hanscom park, and less than two miles from the postoffice at Omaha.

Nearly was also found the top of another of the pouches. The pouch had been split open and inside was a pair of almost new, but greasy, gloves of a small size. The tag at the top showed that it had come from San Francisco. The top of the pouch that was found indicated that it came from Reno.

The dragnet has been thrown out and the machinery of the government, the state of Nebraska, the Union Pacific Railway company and the city of Omaha set in motion in an attempt to capture the four men.

While so far no arrests have been made dozens of individuals are being shadowed and all their movements watched. Sunday plans were made that mean, it would seem, the almost certain capture of the train robbers.

These plans practically mean that a guard covers almost every foot of Nebraska, Western Iowa and Northern Kansas. Inspired by the hope of getting the reward of $5,000 for the capture, dead or alive, of each of the four robbers, every sheriff, United States marshal and every policeman in the territory mentioned is on the alert and searching for the men.

Early Sunday morning the Union Pacific sent notices to every county and town in Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas, giving notice of the robbery and the reward. The result was that all over the great area of country a man hunt was commenced.

Up to this time there is little or nothing on which the officers can work, as there is but one man able to give any description of the robbers, and this man can describe but one.

M. C. Rush, one of the mail clerks, was getting out of the mail car when the mask of one of the robbers dropped partially off his face. Rush noticed that this man was smooth-faced, light hair, boyish looking and full faced. Rush says that he could identify him in a crowd of a thousand persons.

The robbers evidently got on the train at some town west of here. The hold-up occurred about five miles west of the city limits in a deep cut along the recently constructed Lane cutoff.

The robbers climbed over the tank and forced the engineer to stop his train and then proceeded to the mail car.

The engine crew was ordered out of the cab, and two of the robbers stood guard while the other two escorted the engineer and fireman to the rear.

There were eight clerks on the mail car, and they were forced to open the door. The chief clerk was singled out and asked to point out the registered mail. This he did, and the robbers gathered up seven pouches and the leader then remarked:

"This is all we can get into our automobile."

They left the scene quickly, walking down the track 300 feet and clambered out of the cut.

A continuous fusillade of shooting was kept up during the robbery, evidently to intimidate the passengers and crew.

The spot where the hold-up occurred is only two blocks from where Eddie Cudaay was kept a prisoner after being kidnapped several years ago.

Conductor Wallace, who had charge of the train, says he was more surprised at the boldness of the robbers than anything else, and that he never thought of a train robbery at such a point when the train stopped.

"I got out of the rear sleeper when I heard the shooting," said Wallace, "and the robbers at once began using my lantern as a target."

"I walked forward to the next car, when one of the robbers yelled at me: 'Get inside there, before you get your head shot off.'

"It did not take long to obey. I went forward inside the train, and when I got to the dining car just behind the baggage car, the robbers had about finished their job."

"I found the negro waiters in a panic. They were all up, expecting to leave the train at Omaha. Two or three of the dining car men had stuck their heads out and the robbers sent a few bullets in their direction. "None of the passengers knew what had happened, because they were nearly all asleep."
